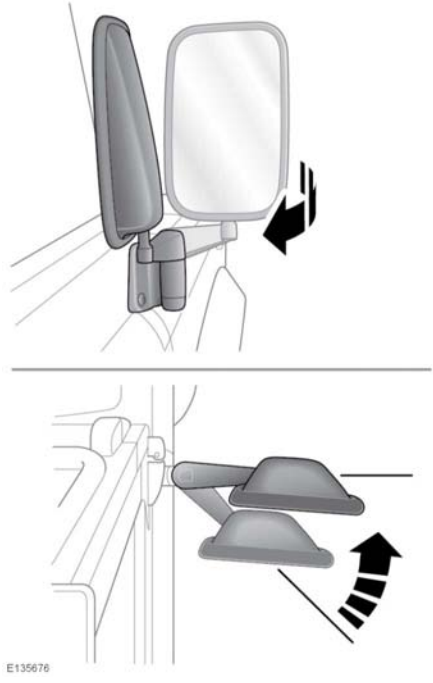
EXTERIOR MIRRORS

Objects viewed in mirrors may appear further away than they actually are.



The mirrors are designed to fold to the side on impact. They can also be folded when negotiating narrow gaps.

To improve visibility and increase the field of vision, the mirror stem can be pivoted outwards.